POLIN Meeting Point 2018

SUMMER EDUCATION SCHOOL

What we will do

POLIN Meeting Point Summer School equals two weeks of intensive work. It includes workshops in small groups, lectures, discussions and integration workshops, mostly held at POLIN Museum. Some of the classes will be held at the museum's temporary exhibition Estranged: March '68 and Its Aftermath, which is dedicated to the events of March '68.

For more information about the program and application form, please go to the POLIN Museum website:

The project is realized thanks to the support of the Nissenbaum Family Foundation and the Association of the Jewish Historical Institute of Poland

Who can apply:

- If you are a student/graduate of a higher education institution in Israel, Germany, Poland or Ukraine;
- If you would like to become part of an international group of students and discuss the joint history of Central-Eastern Europe, Israel and its significance today;
- If you would like to take part in lectures, workshops with experts and to look for inspiration for your own research.

Recruitment

Participants will be selected in a two-stage recruitment process:
1. until 9 May 2018 – filling in the online application form
2. May/June 2018 – interviews with the shortlisted candidates

Program

The subject of this year's edition will be the year 1968 which was recorded in history as a year of civil disobedience and the beginning of a cultural and moral revolution.

During the two-week program, we will discuss:

- political and social context and causes of the discussed events,
- mechanisms of propaganda,
- women's perspective,
- social and cultural changes.
